HELP Continental Automotive (or any other big German OEM) APQP list wanted

Hi all,
I've recently done a training seminar for Continental Automotive in Germany and there was a screenshot from the SupplyOn system showing all the APQP steps.
I've searched on SupplyOn again but can't locate it. Maybe it's only availalbe to Conti side and not to a supplier.
Does anyone have this APQP list (or can take a screenshot of the whole list) or does anyone have a comprehensive APQP list as published on SupplyOn or used by other big German OEMs (Bosch, BMW, VW etc)?
much appreciated!
Lil

Marc had posted a reply to a similar question regarding APQP. There is a slideshow here in the cove regarding APQP and slide 49 is a diagram of the process. Unfortunately it is a general outline of the APQP process and is not specific to Continental Auto or another European OEM.

Thanks to Dooglas for your informative Post and/or Attachment!

I have never heard of "SupplyOn" so I have no idea what their scheme is assuming it's different than the standard APQP process.

It looks like they're another consultant/implementation company with something like the "40 day implementation" scam we all know and love... It says "Rapid Implementation in just a few months". I doubt they have anything other than the standard APQP process to teach.

SupplyOn is the customer portal used by many German OEM's (like Continental, Bosch).

I am looking for Continental's specific list which is used by their SQMs, I've got half a screenshot I got during their training but it seems that it's only probably available for their listed suppliers (we're not at that stage just yet).

I was wondering if anyone's got a copy (or do me a full screenshot) so that our company can fine-tune our APQP.

The APQP section for Continental is found in the Project Management module in Supply On. The only way to get the information is to sign on for a monthly charge to have access to this information

Thanks to barbaral for your informative Post and/or Attachment!

OFF TOPIC! Please don't ask for what is essentially copyrighted material. We definitely do not need problems here over posting copyrighted materials.

Thanks!
